COURT'S MINORITY EXPLAINS POSITION SUPPORTING BOND ISSUE AMENDMENT

Justice Somerville Contends Act Not in Conflict With Constitution

ANY INQUIRIES ARE RECEIVED ABOUT LAND

Public Service Commission Will go to Lucedale, Miss.,
This Week

(Montgomery Bureau Albany-Decatur Daily)

MONTGOMERY, Feb. 14.—Justice Somerville, one of the three Justices of the Alabama supreme court who dissented from the decision of the majority invalidating the $25-0,000 bond issue amendment, has issued a five page typewritten dissenting opinion in which he gives further reasons for supporting the original amendment. Justice Thomas, who dissenting opinion of Justice Thomas.
Justice Somerville could not agree with the majority that the failure of the legislature actually to set the date for the special election which resulted in the ratification of the amendment was a disregard of a mandatory duty imposed on the law-makers by the constitution.

Referring to section 284 of the constitution which requires the legislature to appoint a date for any special election on a constitutional amendment, Justice Somerville in his dissenting opinion said:
"I cannot discover in such allusion to anticipated legislative action any purpose to impose upon the legislature a direct mandatory duty to provide for the time of the election, and exclude the legislature from acting in the usual way in accordance with the immemorial practice by general election or by a delegation of this important ministerial duty to another responsible government agency.
I cannot agree with the statement in the majority opinion that the mere pointment of a day for such an election was in fact or was so regarded by the constitution-makers as a purpose of the gravest constitutional character; nor can I discover any intention on the part of the constitution-makers to descend to a statement of administrative detail in such a matter and thereby to change a mode of procedure which was familiar to the legislature and to them and the necessity or utility of which is by no means apparent." Justice Somerville conceded that the interpretation of the majority was reasonable, but insisted that it is the duty of the court to adopt an interpretation which is in consonance with the legislative practice when such be possible.

Various cases were cited by Justice Somerville in support of the contention that the minority that the bond issue amendment may be upheld with the full compliance of all mandatory requirements of the constitution, and the division was closed with the following summary of the views of the minority:
"We are of the opinion that the language of section 284 of the constitution may be reasonably construed as a reference to expected and appropriate legislative action, appointing a day for holding the election, either by direct action or by the delegation of the duty to a trusted administrative agent according to previous usage, and that it is not only unnecessary but it is a fact unreasonable to impute to the makers of the constitution a design to control and limit the action of the legislature with respect to a comparatively unimportant matter of administrative detail in derogation of a usage which was of long standing and as to which no necessity for change was apparent."

"Upon the soundest principles of interpretation and construction we think that the amendment in question can be sustained." Justices Gardner and Thomas concurred in the opinion.

Rulings on applications for rehearings in the following cases were ordered down by the supreme court last Saturday:
Grand Bay Land Company vs. J. M.
Mason, Mobile; overruled.
Sam W. Coker et al. vs. J. A. Hughes et al., Conecuh; overruled, opinion extended.
Hays Allen vs. Alger-Sullivan Lumber Company, Conecuh; overruled.
A. D. Rich et al. vs. Maude W. Brewster, Montgomery; overruled.
Jacob Moon, pro and vs. Walker D.

CONCERTED ACTION TO ENFORCE LAWS URGED BY PASTOR

The sermon yesterday morning of Dr. C. C. Davison, pastor of the First Baptist church of Decatur, aroused considerable enthusiasm among his hearers for better law enforcement and greater concerted action among the citizenship of the community against the lawless element. The pastor's text was: "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's" and at the end of his discourse he advocated a "Law and Order League" that could deal with criminals as a body of citizens and thus aid the local officials with proper evidence and support in their efforts.

"Why are not the laws enforced?" inquired the minister. Answering his own question, he said: "Public opinion that is more than the hasty judgment of a few people does not demand it.
An example was shown in the repeal of the anti-cigarette law recently repealed in Tennessee because it was commonly violated and most people did not wish it enforced."
"Locally, criminals have the aid and support of Christian citizens as such when they gave information adding 'Now I do not wish to be known in the matter and they come down and give bond and let the violator go free or some able lawyer finds a flaw or a technicality and thereby clogs the mill of justice."

It was urged that when moral and refined people withdrew from the "mud and filth" of political life they turned the matter of law enforcement over to the baser element. Jeremiah 28:17 was quoted, where "a yoke of wood was swapped for one of iron and one of virtue for one of vice."

The recent stand taken by the Central Labor Union for law enforcement and the article following by Judge Lowe were spoken of and a call was made to the Christian men and women of the community to stand by and support the officials in enforcing the law.

"If ten men representing the three congregations of Decatur would stand by officials, they could clean up this town. But the sad part of it is, they have not co-operated in the matter but have fought one another rather than evil."

It was stated that there are a sufficient number of Christian men and women in all the activities of life to clean the whole country up for God if they will work together and demand that it be done.

The good people who hold back and do not do their duties were classed with the lawless element.

The minister quoted the scripture as to the influence of Christians in the world. He said "Micah in 6:7 calls him 'a dew from the Lord' while in Matthew the Master says 'Ye are the light of the world; ye are the salt of the earth.'"

The scripture and the text was Matt.
22:21, "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's," was often referred to.

The minister declared that Jesus cleared up a difficult matter for the Jews as under the Theocracy Israel considered civil duties to be religious while under Roman rule some Jews believed it was irreligious to obey the laws of Rome. "Jesus clearly taught them that citizenship in the Kingdom of God did not conflict with good citizenship in this world."

Referring to Caesar, the minister said that he represented stable government and law. S. A. Lynn, a member of the congregation, was called upon to give a definition of law. He defined it as "the crystallized wisdom of the ages." The pastor added that law is codified public opinion or custom but warned that to stand, it must be opinion and custom based upon right and the law of God.

"Law," he continued, "regulates the relationships of individuals and of families and of organizations. It also guarantees certain rights and defines duties of the citizen. The law also protects a person in life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. Liberty, pictured.

PRESIDENT ELECT, BESEIGED ON EACH SIDE BY CALLERS, WORKS ON SPEECH

Senator Harding Finds Time Still to Formulate His Policies

INAUGURAL ADDRESS
EXPECTED TO BE SHORT

Keynote Will be Plea for United America, is the Forecast

(International News Service)
ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Feb. 14.— Although beset with vexing cabinet difficulties and besieged on all sides by callers who desire "just a few minutes" and then stretch the time to 30 minutes, President-elect Harding is managing to devote more and more time to his inaugural address, now less than three weeks from delivery.

The inaugural address probably will not be long, it was learned today, and while little intimation has been forthcoming from either the President-elect or his advisers regarding the main subject matter, it is believed the address will be devoted largely to domestic issues.

It is believed the keynote will be a plea for a united America, a plea for a cessation of the partisan bitterness that has obstructed the business of government in Washington for the past two years. Decisions and policies of far-reaching consequence must be formulated in the four years after March 4 and the gravity of these matters and the needs for business stability and confidence in the new administration will be emphasized.

IMPEACHMENT OF LANDIS ASKED IN HOUSE BY WELTY

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Impeachment of Federal Judge K. M.
Landis for "high crimes and misdemeanors in office" was asked of the House today by Representative B. F.
Welty, Democrat, of Ohio.

"I impeach Judge Landis," Welty declared and entered the formal procedure to secure an impeachment trial for the judge.

TWO ARE ADDED TO BOARD OF DEACONS

Both services at Central Baptist church Sunday were marked by large attendance and great interest, it being necessary to bring in chairs to seat the congregation at each hour.

Mrs. McNeill sang at the morning service and greatly delighted the large congregation with her rendering of "Resignation." At the evening hour the male quartet gave two selections, both of which were well rendered.

On recommendation from the deacons, it was decided to hold evangelistic services in the latter half of March the pastor being requested to do the preaching.

Messrs. E. R. Britnell and F. G. Almon were added to the board of deacons, Mr. Britnell having been ordained before coming to Albany and the ordination of Mr. Almon to take place at an early date.

Luncheon For Scottish Rite Masons

All Scottish Rite Masons from the

CITIZEN'S PATROL BEGINS WORK TO CHECK ROBBERIES WITHIN THE CITY

Many Volunteer for Work Upon Call of Mayor E. C.
Payne

BEATS ARE DIVIDED AND PATROLS ARE ASSIGNED

Step Taken as Means to Prevent Spread of Lawlessness

The citizens' patrol in Albany, organized by Mayor Payne as a means of checking the robberies here before they assume the proportions of a crime wave, began work Saturday night and is meeting with success.

A large number of volunteers gathered at the city hall Saturday night, upon call of Mayor Payne, and were organized into squads for patrol of the city. Included in the volunteers were business men, ex-service men, professional men and shop men.

The beats were divided as follows:

Beat 1—City school grounds, down Prospect drive to Sixth avenue to Sixth street, around car barns and Wheeler park.

Beat 2—Sherman street, Jackson street and residential section of Central Albany to Grant street, including Second avenue.

Beat 3—All territory north of Grant street, including Grant street to the switch track on east side of Second avenue.

Beat 4—West Albany, all territory north of Moulton street and west of Second avenue to the Decatur line.

Beat 5—South of Moulton street to Gordon drive, from Second avenue to Louisville and Nashville railroad.

Beat 6—West Albany, south of Moulton street beginning at Louisville and Nashville railroad.

RIVER BELIEVED TO HAVE REACHED HIGH MARK FOR SEASON

Although latest observations showed that the Tennessee river was still on the rise, it was stated that by the end of today it would begin to fall. This opinion was based on the fact that official reports from points toward Chat-tanoocha showed that the flood was subsiding. Because Decatur is situated on a high bluff, no concern is ever felt however high the tide of water may flow.

J. D. McCormick, an old resident who has lands just over the river from the Albany ferry, stated to a Daily reporter that some believed that the water would reach near 21 feet before it began to fall, but that he had known the official register to show 23 feet at Decatur. Mr. McCormick pointed across the river where at one place the water was flowing out of river channel toward Swan lake, and added that some water had reached the lake, but that not enough had flowed into it to bring the river and the lake to the same level. He said that the creek that flows from toward Mooresville was well backed up with river water and declared that the present was no mean flood.

Attracted by the fine weather and the sight of the river "of the great bend" at flood tide, many went to the river yesterday.

ORGANIZED ATTACK ON BRITISH PLANTS REPORTED MONDAY

(International News Service)
LONDON, Feb. 14.—An organized attack of incendiaryism, attributed by Scotland Yards to Sinn Feiners, has swept through the English industrial belt in the past 48 hours.
Four factories at Manchester were set on fire; three at Oldham and one at Stockport. Other attempts to burn industrial plants were reported from Rochdale and Roydon.

Curfew Law is Advocated by Judge Troup More Protection for Cities' Young Urged

Official Fills Pulpit at Westside Presbyterian Church at Invitation of the Congregation Sunday

By special invitation of the congregation, Judge L. P. Troup occupied the pulpit of the Westside Presbyterian church at the 11 o'clock hour Sunday morning, and spoke with feeling to the attentive audience on the importance of a greater watch-care over the young people of the community. The Judge advocated a curfew law, one provision of which, he said, should be that those of tender age should be within doors by 8 o'clock at night, or else be accompanied while on the streets by guardians of mature age.

He said that community organizations should be built up in sufficient number and of great enough efficiency to see to it that every child and young person had the right protection and the right encouragement.

A number of illustrations were given from the speaker's own experience of how apparent failures had been made successful men and women by the right personal effort during the impressive period of life. Judge Troup told especially of a young man who had been brought to his notice and his influence asked to get the young fellow committed to the reform school at Birmingham.

Instead of agreeing to send him to Birmingham, the Judge gave him suggestions as to where he could mend his ways, and finally landed him in a good job.
The boy held his position with credit to himself and profit to his employers for a number of years, up until the time of the "flu" epidemic when he fell a victim to that disease.

The scripture text used by the speaker was II Samuel, 18th chapter:
"Is the young man Absalom safe?"— King David's words when he first heard of the defeat of his wayward son's rebel army. The speaker said that there was no doubt but what David was well up in the scale so far as right men were concerned, and that the great king generally did, at least, in the neighborhood of what was right.
Also that David had an abiding affection for Absalom, but that the cares of life and the responsibilities of his kingdom caused him to forget his fatherly duties.

A strong plea was made to the parents present to encourage them to put the best things of life at the disposal of their children at all costs. The congregation was advised that what the rising generation became decided in advance what the future life of the community, state and the nation would be.

GOVERNMENT ASKED SWITZERLAND WILL TO PROBE STRIKE IN THE ALABAMA FIELD

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Secretary Tumulty today telegraphed Governor Kilby of Alabama in response to the latter's telegram, protesting against conciliator W.
C. Liller, who has been mediating the Alabama coal strike, that Secretary of Labor Wilson had reported that he has under advisement the matter of whether or not Liller will be returned to Alabama.

BIRMINGHAM, Feb. 14.—Union labor leaders in Birmingham are awaiting developments today in their request for a presidential commission to investigate and settle the coal miners' strike in Alabama.

The request was made in resolutions adopted at a big labor mass meeting here Sunday at which Governor Kilby was criticized for his stand in the strike.

The resolutions called upon the governor to join in a request that federal troops be sent to Alabama to patrol the strike zone and that state troops be recalled.

PROMINENT CITIZEN OF TRINITY DIES OF PISTOL WOUND, WAS WELL KNOWN HERE

Death of John L. Lile Comes as Great Shock to the Community

SERVED AS POSTMASTER
OF TRINITY YEARS AGO

Will be Missed, Not Only by Own City, But All of Valley

Funeral arrangements were being made this afternoon for John L. Lile, one of Morgan County's best known farmers, who died suddenly this morning in the general store of Rayburn Neville, at Trinity, following a pistol wound in his right temple. Mr. Lile's health had not been of the best recently, it was stated.

The deceased several years ago was postmaster at Trinity and was well known throughout North Alabama.
He was about 63 years of age and had resided all of his life in Trinity.
At one time he was in business in the same building in which he met death today.

News of his death reached the Twin Cities shortly before noon and came as a great shock to his hundreds of friends here.

At the time of his death, he was preparing to come here on business, it was said and a friend awaited him just outside the store. The shooting occurred in an ante-room to the building. Only one shot was fired, Mr. Lile dying within a few minutes; before medical assistance, which was hurriedly summoned, could avail.

Mr. Lile is survived by his wife, a son, Samuel Lile and four daughters, Misses Kate, Louise and Sarah Lile, of Trinity and Mrs. William Boswell, of Decatur; his mother; three sisters, Mrs. F. E. Tidwell of Albany; Mrs.
Alan Campbell, of Charlottesville, Va.; five brothers, Henry, D. W. and S. D.
Lile, of Trinity; Dr. Sam Lile, of Lynchburg, Va.; Minor Lile, of Charlottesville, Va.

A leader always in any movement looking to the betterment of his community, Mr. Lile had been actively identified with the growth and development of this section and he will be missed, not only by his immediate community, but by all of North Alabama.

PRESIDENT DENIES PROMISED TO SEEK DEBT CANCELLATION

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Official denial was made today of published reports that President Wilson had promised to work for the cancellation of the Allied loan, upon ratification of the peace treaty by the United States.
Many suggestions for cancellation of the Allied loan were made, indirectly, in the peace conference, it was said, but it was not until after the peace conference that the matter was taken up formally with the treasury department by the British government.

Average Number In Army 181,956

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—The average number of men in the army for the fiscal year beginning July 1 next will reach 181,956 men. Brigadier-General H. M. Lord, chief of finance of the War Department, told the Senate military affairs committee considering army appropriations. Under the congressional act, reducing the army to 175,000 men, the department will, by discharges and other releases, reduce the army to 175,000 by the end of the fiscal year, Lord said.

POLICY AWAITED
(International News Service)
LONDON, Feb. 14.—The Allies have decided to await President-elect Harding's declaration of policy before making their final decision on Turkish and German problems, according to The

IS AMERICA REALLY AWAKENING TO HER DUTY?

Almost crowded off the wires by other, bigger news of the day, there came from Washington last week a brief dispatch telling of the action of Congress in appropriating funds for the erection of five new hospitals for treatment of American soldiers disabled in the world war. Is the American government at last awakening to the debt it owes those who came back broken in spirit, mind or body?

During the past few months an active campaign has been conducted by The American Legion, organization of the ex-service men, on behalf of the wounded and maimed of America. If the organization never accomplished more than obtaining the passage of the hospital bill, it has fully justified its existence.

A writer in The American Legion Weekly recently presented a terrible indictment against the American government and the American public because of their neglect of the disabled. The author, J. W. Bixey Smith, among other things says:

"The world has not changed a vast deal since Kilgling wrote 'Tommy Atkins.' That inimitable portrayal of the difference in the public's attitude toward its fighting men when they are needed and when they are in need still holds good.

Anyone with a memory long enough to run back to the days of parades and fireworks, of flag-waving, shouting, music, flowers and pretty promises that were America in 1918, when the troops were on the tide, and who now looks about him at the indifference, neglect and ingratitude displayed on every side toward those who served will see that it holds good in the America of 1921.

There shall be no more than mention here of the millions who returned able-bodied and sound from the war. Given $60 each and told to shift for themselves, they are doing it with little grumbling and with but rarely a thought for the golden promise of "the whole wide world" that was to be waiting for them when they came back. Let us stick, for present purposes, to the thousands who came back sick and wounded, with limbs it hurt to move with, with lungs it hurt to breathe with, with minds it hurt to think with—the disabled.

This story of what has happened to them and what is happening to them still—has been told in issue after issue of The American Legion Weekly. It has been a story of deficient laws badly administered, of inefficiency, delays, hair-splitting quibbles, carelessness and lack of coordination in the Government agencies, or protracted compensation claims snared in tangles of red tape, of insufficient and improper hospital treatment.

Mr. Smith then continues his article by reciting a number of instances where efforts were made by the government to locate institutions in certain localities, only to find the inhabitants of the region bitterly resenting the plan and violently opposing the location of the hospital in their midst.

The government, according to Mr. Smith, recently planned to convert one of its institutions into a sanatorium for treatment of tubercular victims of the war. Without delay the telegrams began pouring into Washington in opposition to the conversion.

"One of the reasons," Mr. Smith goes on, "given for the opposition was a fear of the introduction of contagion, a wholly fallacious fear, according to enlightened medical opinion. The principal reason, I have been informed from half a dozen sources, was the same as that in scores of similar cases. The leaders of the town did not want disabled ex-service men because they were neither a business nor a social asset to the community."

This open opposition by a part of the general public and the general indifference of other parts is the principal basis of Mr. Smith's indictment against the nation at large. The mere fact that the government has not done what it promised it would do, what it was expected to do and what it should do for the disabled provides the indictment against officialdom.

Of all of the degrading characteristics, few are sorer than ungratefulness.

Nothing that we may do in the future can alleviate the suffering these men already have undergone because of the nation's forgetfulness, but it is to be hoped, in the spirit of patriotism, if nothing else, that the recent decision of Congress is really an indication that America is waking up!

The recurrence of the date of birth of Abraham Lincoln this year excited more than usual interest because of the fact that the Lincoln Memorial at Washington city, is to be presented to the nation early this spring with appropriate ceremonies. It is expected that the solid marble building costing millions, will be presented to the nation by former President William H. Taft, received by Mr. Harding, in behalf of the nation, and that the address of the day will be delivered by President Woodrow Wilson.

Should Mr. Wilson consent to accept the honor, he will have a subject on which he can bestow a wealth of thought, and fashion many beautiful sentences.

Whatever may be history's final verdict as to Mr. Lincoln's policy toward the South, during the civil war, when he was President and the Commander of the Federal army, few men of America or of any other country have been credited with nobler aspirations for his country, or higher sentiments as to personal duty.

Phillips Brooks, the great Episcopal Bishop, and a contemporary of Lincoln, was preaching in Philadelphia, at the time the lifeless body of the martyred President lay in state in that city. Instead of preaching as usual that day the Bishop said: "With this sacred presence lying in our midst, I cannot speak of the duties that ordinarily occupy the pulpit. I must speak of him today, the purposes of his life and the causes of his death."

"The more I come to see of men and events," continued Bishop Brooks, "the less I become to believe in any fate or destiny, except the destiny of character. He lived as he did, and he died as he did, because he was what he was."

And the discourse went on, carrying out the idea that Lincoln stood for humanity and unselfishness as he saw it, while those who sought the death of Lincoln, stood for selfishness. The Bishop was careful to say in his address that he was not to be understood as saying the spirit of selfishness was confined to any one locality in the country, or to any class or condition, but that selfishness from all sides converged upon Lincoln, and finally secured his untimely death.

Because Lincoln died just at the time he did, and in the manner he did, has much to do with the estimate the world has put upon him.

No doubt, if he had lived out a long life much of the veneration that now attaches to the name of Lincoln, would be lacking. But because of his achievements and because he is credited with leaving so many true sentiments behind him, Mr. Lincoln will always be regarded as one of this nation's greatest idealists. He is credited with saying in one of his numerous debates that Senator Douglass cared not whether the black men were enslaved or not, "but there is a God in heaven and He hates injustice" and then Lincoln went on to say that the Supreme being looked with disfavor on the institution of human slavery. One of the best known sentiments of Lincoln is the one in which he said that he purposed to do the right as he was given the vision to see the right, "with malice toward none and with charity for all."

A quotation of Lincoln's, that was often repeated by speakers during the world war, as expressing the purpose of America in the war was taken from the close of his Gettysburg speech as follows:

"It is rather for us that we be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us, that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion; that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain; that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom; and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

MORAL CLOTHES FOR WOMEN

The Philadelphia clergymen who have designed a "moral gown" for women's wear must be credited with an intelligent attitude on the question of the moral regulation of feminine attire. They have not limited their reform to laying down general rules but have actually fashioned a model garment which is certified as conforming to all the specifications of modesty and propriety, even the height of the waist and length of skirts.

The ministerial modiste is something new in dress reform, but why not? If there are morals in clothes, are they not a proper subject for ecclesiastical supervision? The results of leaving the matter to the judgment of tailors untrained in moral regulations are only too apparent.

But the ministers having exhibited their model moral gown, it remains to get the women to adopt it. It may be well, as one of the clerical designers intimated, to obtain an approving word from Paris. An atelier established in Rue de la Paix for the manufacture of moral costumes might help toward making them the mode. Luther did not see why the devil should have all the good tunes; why not utilize the arts of sinful dressmaking in popularizing pure clothes?—New York World.

APPROPRIATION FOR MUSCLE SHOALS IS BEFORE CONFEREES

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—Senators supporting the emergency tariff bill planned today to jam it through the Senate tomorrow or Wednesday. They claimed to have a substantial majority to insure its passage and predicted it would be sent to President Wilson in time for him to act on it before his retirement from office.

Opponents of the measure declared he would veto it. The Senate has less than three weeks now to dispose of a batch of important appropriation bills. The legislative, executive and judicial measure, a hold-over from last week, because of the fight on the $240 bonus provision for government employees, demanded attention today.

The postoffice, agriculture, diplomatic and consular bills are all awaiting their turn with little prospect of either the army or navy appropriation bills being reported this week.

Another appropriation bill that is held in the sundry civil bill, passed by the House and Senate, but locked in conference because of the $1,000,000 provision for the much discussed Muscle Shoals project. The conferees were to hold a hearing on the bill today. The Senate conferees insist upon its adoption. It is understood its inserting in the bill was the result of an agreement that if a Republican leader of the Senate consented to it, Democratic leaders would not oppose an early vote on the emergency tariff bill, a tentative date for which was fixed for tomorrow.

Ocean Ferry From England to Sweden

(International News Service)

LONDON, Feb. 14.—An ocean ferry from England to Sweden is now in contemplation.

It is calculated that four steamers, attaining a speed of about eighteen knots, would ensure a daily service.

The American Legion Attention

The American Legion Weekly announced in January that all subscriptions for last year would cease with the first of February, but they later revised that date and made it February 24. This means that names should be in the local office of the Morgan County Post not later than February 17.

If you haven't attended to this matter, talk it over with your conscience and send the adjutant a check for $4, with your name and latest address.

E. J. Winstett, vice-commander of the national organization, wires from Washington that there is little doubt but that the Bonus Bill will be reported out of committee and passed this session.

Official Card Pink

The official card for 1921 is pink. Until they were received the Morgan County Post issued the old blue ones, changing the date to fit. You can exchange blue cards for pink at the next meeting of the Legion, which will be Thursday, February 24, at the Albany city hall at 7:30 p. m. sharp.

FOR INDIGESTION

All Mothers Will Find Use For This Laxative

Give Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin to a constipated child and note its quick recovery.

IN a growing family the subject of thought with the parents is how to keep the children healthy and happy, and what to do when they become ill. Most illnesses of childhood are the symptoms of constipation, such as headaches, coated tongues, flatulence, dizziness, loss of appetite and sleep, biliousness, etc.

You can surely feel safe in doing what tens of thousands of others do with good results, so give, according to the age of the child, a small quantity of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Eight million bottles were bought last year at drug stores. It is America's favorite family remedy for constipation, indigestion and similar ills, and is especially suitable for children, women and old folks as it is so mild and gentle in action.

There is no secret about Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a combination of Egyptian Senna and other simple laxative herbs with pepsin and pleasant tasting aromatics. Druggists have sold it for thirty years, and a sixty cent bottle will last for months. Experienced mothers are never without it in the house.

TRY IT FREE

Send me your name and address and I will send you a free trial bottle of my Syrup Pepsin. Address me Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 513 Washington Street, Monticello, Illinois. Every body now and then needs a laxative, and it is well to know the best. Write me today.

Pure, Rich Blood Will Keep Your Body Vigorous and Healthy

When impurities creep into your blood the first symptoms are usually a loss of appetite, followed by a gradual lessening of energy, the system becomes weaker day by day, until you feel yourself on the verge of a breakdown. Nearly every body needs a few bottles of S. S. S., the great vegetable blood remedy, to cleanse out all impurities about twice a year. It is an excellent idea to take this precaution to keep the system in a vigorous condition so as to more easily resist disease to which every one is subject. S. S. S. is without an equal as a general tonic and system builder. It improves the appetite and gives new strength and vitality to both old and young. MRS. ALMON DINNER HOSTESS

Yesterday Mrs. D. C. Almon entertained with an elaborate five course dinner complimentary to her husband, Solicitor D. C. Almon, and three daughters, Mrs. T. H. Alexander, Mrs. LeRoy McEntire and Mrs. Earl Jones, celebrating all four birthdays, falling on the same week and month of the year.

A mass of lovely jonquills adorned the beautifully appointed table, centered by a handsome cluny cloth, hand-painted cards marked the places for the following members of the Almon family: Solicitor and Mrs. D. C. Almon, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Alexander, and son Dave Almon, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy McEntire, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Jones, G. C. Almon of Birmingham, T. C. Almon, the Misses Christine and Louise Almon and Dr. John Bragg.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Wolcott are expected to return from Florida at an early date.

Mrs. Baxter Crawford has returned from Kansas, where she was called by the death of her father.

Don't fail to attend the exhibition of Beneker's wonderful paintings at the Y. M. C. A. beginning Tuesday at 2 p. m., continuing through the week.

Trial Is Opened in Tuscaloosa Today

(International News Service)

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Feb. 14.—The trials of Monroe Hill and his son, Ed Hill, who are charged with murder in connection with the killing of Deputy Treuit, whose body was found badly decomposed at Empire, Walker county, opened here today.

The case was transferred to Tuscaloosa county from Walker county on a change of venue. Treuit's death was a mystery for some time.

Testimony presented at a preliminary hearing indicated the deputy was lured to an out-of-way spot by persons claiming to know the location of a still.

COTTON MARKET OPENS ON DECLINE

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—The cotton market opened at a decline of 14 to 26 points today. Selling early was influenced by weak cables from Liverpool on further pessimistic advices from Manchester. Strength in the stock market and foreign exchange, coupled with very active support from Wall Street sources, quickly rallied quotations to within a few points of Saturday's close. Liverpool, the South and several of the spot concerns were among the principal sellers early.

French In Dispute With Swiss Over Milk Shipments

PARIS, Feb. 12.—A sharp diplomatic dispute over the subject of milk has arisen between the French and Swiss Governments.

For a long time French milkmen in the department of Haute-Savoie have been sending milk to Geneva. French consumers complained that this advanced the price of milk in France, and the French Government prohibited the exportation. Now Switzerland threatens to stop the sending of Swiss milk across the border into Alsace. A protest has been made to the French Ambassador at Berne.

City Privilege Licenses for all Trades, Business and Occupations must be paid not later than tomorrow (Feb. 15th, 1921). Ten per cent penalty positively will be charged after that date for delinquency.

Court's Minority Explains Position

Hines, director-general, etc., Coosa; overruled.

William H. Taylor, chief of police of Montgomery, has started an inquiry in his department which will not end until the truth or falsity of reports about members of his force knowing of blind tigers in Montgomery is established, according to his announcement today. Chief Taylor began his inquiry as soon as the report of the grand jury was made public Friday. The grand jury said it had information that some members of the police department had failed to make arrests although they knew of violations of the prohibition laws.

Canada furnished one inquiry for reports on Alabama's agricultural opportunities during the week, according to the weekly summary issued today by the bureau of markets and immigration of the state department of agriculture. A. C. McCay, 152 Walnut street, Halifax, informed F. O. Hooton, supervisor, that he was interested in this state and would like to receive reports on agricultural conditions and values of farm lands. Other inquiries during the week follow:

J. W. Summers, Tonasket, Wash. requested information about opportunities in Alabama.

F. J. Streetes, 913 Locust street Columbia, Mo., wrote that he was interested in agricultural opportunities of this state and desired further information.

S. S. Clawson, Columbia, Tenn., in requesting information about farming opportunities of Alabama, said he was especially interested in lands in Baldwin county which will be suitable for colonization purposes.

Ernest Chance, 214 S. Elm street, Kewanee, Ill., said he was thinking of locating in the South and desired lands suitable for hog raising and general farming.

R. S. Lamont, 389 Clifton avenue,

Newark, N. J., requested information about the growing of paper shell pecans in Alabama and other sections of the South.

Members of the Alabama Public Service Commission will go to Lucedale, Miss., Monday for the hearing Tuesday on the petition of the Alabama-Mississippi Railroad Company for permission to abandon its railroad between Vinegar Bend, Ala., and Leakesville, Miss. The two commissions were asked to hear the case by the interstate commerce commission and make recommendations to it.

The company claims there is not sufficient business on the line now to warrant the operation and that it is losing money in continuing the service.

Complaint has been filed with the Public Service Commission against alleged exorbitant rates on lime for agricultural purposes from Birmingham to Montgomery and Demopolis to Montgomery. F. O. Hooton, supervisor of the division of markets and immigration of the state department of agriculture, today asked the Public Service Commission to make an investigation which will result in such action as the commission thinks necessary.

Hails and Thompson of Montgomery declared the rates are almost prohibitive and that farmers will be unable to use lime for fertilizer unless there is relief from the high rates. Mr. Hooton said an official of the Gulf, Mobile and Northern railroad had assured business men of Mobile that his railroad was delivering lime free of charge to the farmers' shipping station in order to aid diversification.

A PAIR OF SHOES FOR 47c

The Odom Shoe Company is making a novel offer in the way of shoe bargains as outlined in an announcement in today's issue of The Daily. One pair of shoes at a greatly reduced price, a second pair at 47 cents is their offer. Henry Norton is now associated with Mr. Odom in the Odom Shoe Company and his many friends wish him much success in his new line of endeavor.

PUT FIGHTING QUALITIES IN YOUR BLOOD

If You are Pale and Weak, Without Ambition, You Need a Tonic

TRY TAKING PEPTO-MANGAN

Rich, Red Blood Fights Off Disease and Keeps You Well and Enables You to Work With Pleasure

Serious sickness often comes when you least suspect. You may feel a little over-tired. You haven't been exposed to contagion, yet all of a sudden you are flat on your back and in for a siege of sickness.

Your blood did not have fighting qualities. It was weak and thin. Your vitality and powers of resistance were low.

When you overdo you use up energy. Your blood is driven to do more than it can. It becomes clogged with waste. The waste acts like poison. Disease germs get in your blood and dominate.

Don't let yourself get run down. Take that good tonic, red blood that will resist and rout out disease germs. Pepto-Mangan is widely and heartily endorsed by physicians. It is effective and easy to take. Comes in either liquid or tablet form. Both have the same effect.

Sold at any drug store. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan—"Gude's." Ask for it by the name and be sure the full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," is on the package.
